Trustees name Ferrari interim president, hike fees

by David Sigworth
News staff reporter

The Board of Trustees unanimously approved a 15-percent increase of instructional fees for summer quarter and named Dr. Michael Ferrari interim president at its meeting Friday.

The increase, deemed necessary and substantial by Charles Shanklin, chairman of the Finance Committee, raises summer instructional fees for undergraduates from $321 to $370; for graduates from $455 to $523; and the non-resident surcharge from $509 to $585.

The increase is for summer quarter only, Shanklin emphasized.

Regarding the University's budget for next year, Shanklin said, "We feel it is absolutely essential that we continue our work on the budget of this University but not come to any conclusion until the state concludes its work (on the state budget)."

THE BOARD named Ferrari, who was provost and executive vice president of the University, to act as interim president, effective immediately.

It then named Richard Edwards, University vice president and secretary to the board, executive vice president, effective immediately.

Ferrari and Edwards will continue in these positions during the 1981-82 academic year.

Albert Dyckes, in his last meeting as board president, said University affairs were "extremely well-managed in Dr. Moore's absence," adding this speaks well of the University and the administrative team.

DR. HOLLIS Moore Jr., president of the University for the last ten years, died April 19 of cancer.

"It is a source of considerable pride and joy to note and observe the working of the University community," he said, adding a wish to "commend senior administrative officers of the University and their staff, and particularly (those in) the President's Office."

The board created an ad hoc committee, composed of Shanklin, Dyckes, and two other board members, Anne Russell and Frazier Reams Jr. to establish the protocol to be used in the search for Moore's permanent replacement.

Following a resolution concerning Moore, the board unanimously approved a motion changing the name of the Musical Arts Center to The Hollis and Marian Moore Musical Arts Center.

REAMS CALLED this a "fitting tribute" to the couple's efforts in the fund-raising for the $9 million music complex and overall support of the arts.

The board also elected officers for the next academic year. Reams, this year's board vice president, was elected board president and Robert Ludwig was elected vice president. Edwards also was approved to retain his role as secretary.

In other agenda actions, Sally Diehl was appointed to the Public Advisory Council for Television on WBGU-TV through April of 1983. The board also heard the 1980 Classified Employee Survey report.

Latinos criticize coverage of Bowers murder trial

Dave Whitman
News staff reporter

Edward Villarreal and James Oviedo were wrongly convicted of murder, said Carlos Flores.

Flores headed a panel discussion during a press conference yesterday protesting the convictions of Oviedo and Villarreal on May 1 for the murder of University student Stephen Bowers last November. Flores said the press conference was called for "out of Latino concern in the Wood County area" and not by the Latin Student Union.

Oviedo and Villarreal were certified to stand trial as adults by Wood County Court of Common Pleas Judge Gale Williamson.

FLORES SAID Oviedo and Villarreal were wrongly convicted for four reasons:

- newspaper coverage of the stabbing was sensational and biased
- the boy's faces were printed in the news during the trial
- news coverage focused on Oviedo and Villarreal and not on other suspects in the case
- news coverage implied that

Bowers was attacked by the youths.

"They were convicted on circumstantial evidence - ideas about what happened," Flores said. Coverage by The Bowling Green Sentinel-Tribune and the News was used to incite the imagination and emotions of readers, he added.

"The press implied attack. . . No witness could ever say Bowers was hit or attacked before he pushed the six youths out of the downtown bar on November 16," Flores said.

Flores said one example of sensationalism that created bias in the trial was the May 2 headline of the Sentinel-Tribune, which read - Jury convicts two juveniles of murdering BGSU student next to a picture of Oviedo and Villarreal laughing. Flores said this implied they did not care about the killing.

FLORES ALSO objected to the April 30 headline in the News that said: Key witness in Bowers murder trial testifies she saw blood on defendants. Flores said this, too, was an appeal to reader imagination and emotion.

"We're calling not for freedom (for Oviedo and Villarreal), but for a new trial" outside of Wood County, Flores said.

Flores said Wood County Prosecutor Betty Montgomery was biased throughout the trial, and that she tried to prejudice the jury and gain its sympathy for Bowers.

"(Montgomery) was trying to create that all (of the youths involved in the stabbing) were Latinos to arouse prejudice," Flores said.

MONTGOMERY knew Villarreal speaks English, yet asked him in court if he spoke English, Flores said.

Flores said Montgomery violated an agreement not to use an unsworn tape of Villarreal during the grand jury hearing. Montgomery and Neller agreed not to use the tape, Flores said, but Montgomery used an incomplete transcript of the tape in court.

"We feel the two were convicted because they were Latinos, and their convictions were helped by the biased press, prosecutor and history of harsh punishment for Latinos in Wood County," Flores said.

Montgomery, who was not at the press conference, said later she regretted not being notified about the conference.

"IF IT WAS a fact-finding group, it would have been necessary to hear both sides," Montgomery said. "If any (of the Latinos) had sat through the entire whole trial, they would have had a much fuller understanding of the guilty verdict."

Montgomery said she tried to ignore Oviedo and Villarreal's ethnic background and concentrate on the facts of the case.

"If I feel we have enough evidence then I'm required to prosecute," Montgomery said. "I felt we had enough evidence to convict."

"We are not claiming those two wielded the knives that killed Bowers," she said. "A major portion of the case goes to whether they aided and abetted to murder, whether they contributed under the law to his death."

AT THE PRESS conference, Villarreal's mother, Lydia Villarreal, expressed sympathy for Bower's family, but said her son and Oviedo were convicted unjustly.

"We cannot stand around while the Court of Wood County plays around with their lives," she said.

Sue Belcher, a sophomore Alpha Chi Omega from Canton, was crowned Miss BGSU Saturday night in front of a crowd of 600. She will compete in the Miss Ohio Pageant in Mansfield June 13.

French switch politics; Western world wary

PARIS (AP) - The Paris stock market and the franc fell sharply yesterday as France began a season of political uncertainty under a Socialist president, Francois Mitterrand. The Western allies reacted warily, unsure what role the Communists might have in running France.

Just a day after Mitterrand ousted Valery Giscard d'Estaing in presidential elections, the focus of French politics was switching to the vote for a new National Assembly, expected near the end of June.

Mitterrand hopes to elect a leftist majority in the Assembly that will support his plan of economic change, including major nationalizations.

PARIS MAYOR Jacques Chirac, moving to take over leadership of the conservatives from the defeated Giscard d'Estaing, issued an appeal for unity among the center-right parties in order to hold their majority in the Assembly.

Premier Raymond Barre, whose government will resign in the next two weeks, said Mitterrand's election would lead to "the deterioration of the domestic and international situation of our country."

Traders reported "near-panic" on the Paris stock exchange, where the flood of selling orders found virtually no takers. The closing market indicator showed a fall of more than 9 percent, but that was based only on 12 of the more than 200 issues on the market. The absence of buying orders made it impossible to quote other stocks.

THE WORST hit stocks were those of major companies at the top of Mitterrand's nationalization list.

The value of the French franc against the dollar fell by about a half-cent, to 18.18 cents. The price of gold, a traditional hedge for worried French investors, rose almost 7 percent.

"The stock market is not France," said Paul Quiles, Mitterrand's campaign manager.

"Without a doubt this is a temporary situation. This is the first major transition in France in 23 years," France's last leftist leader was Radical Party chief Felix Gaillard, who governed for five months in 1958.

In a congratulatory cable to the 64-year-old Mitterrand, President Reagan said he was "confident that the centuries-old tradition of Franco-American friendship" would enable the two countries to "preserve the spirit of Western cooperation."

SOVIET President Leonid Brezhnev said the French also have "traditional relations of friendship and cooperation" with the Soviet people and he hoped they would "develop in all fields."

In Britain, where Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher was meeting with West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, aides said the two agreed that the key to France's future lies in whether Mitterrand can survive without depending heavily on the French Communists.

Although he almost certainly would need Communist support in the National Assembly, Mitterrand has not committed himself to putting Communists into policy-making government position.

Reference material needs more security

The University Library has been having problems and as a result, so have the students. Reference material has become scarce because of thefts in the library.

It is the books that "are mostly needed that are stolen," Angela Poulos, director of the library's collection development, said.

And Dwight Burlingame, dean of the library, said that popular magazine publications also are stolen or mutilated.

In an attempt to fill in the missing gaps in periodicals, the library staff is seeking supplementary issues of popular magazines from staff members, Williams Treat, director of technical services and systems for the library, said.

But will this prevent further thefts? We don't think so. Something more has to be done. With University budget cuts imposing restrictions on the library, expensive solutions are not probable.

Even so, the library should continue to order microfilm copies of periodical material. The cost of microfilm may seem expensive now, but we view it as a positive step. Money invested here will help students out in the long run.

It makes more sense to have the material readily available to students than to try to obtain duplicates of missing articles, which will probably disappear again.

Letters

Recent incidents have shaken the greeks

Lori DeSalvo is quite a bit misguided in her defense of Mark Winston, the dismissed student, and the University greek system. The University is an academic community, an entity in and of itself. The University held its own legal hearing to determine if Winston had violated the Student Code and could have possibly been involved in an illegal activity on campus.

The University administration, based on corroborated testimony, ruled that on evidence existed to dismiss Winston for eight quarters. Winston's rights have not been violated.

Furthermore, it was Winston's attorney that released the prejudicial information of his client's dismissal. The sexual harassment incident, involving Winston and the cause for his dismissal, is being investigated by the Wood County Prosecutor's Office.

Winston has been found in violation of the student code, this is a fact, not a pointless accusation.

Another fact, not pointless accusation, is that 11 members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

Considering the high number of Phi Delta Theta members subpoenaed, and the ongoing University investigation, the University administration acted in a most proper and judicious manner in suspending the Phi Delta Theta house.

I would also like to point out that the greek system, by its very structure, is a sexist operation. Females are not generally allowed to join fraternities, nor can males be full members of sororities.

The incident being investigated is the ultimate in sexist behavior, the sexual harassment and alleged sexual assault of another human being.

It is no surprise to me that the greek system is under a great deal of scrutiny by the student body. At the present, I am not enrolled in classes, but I have remained in touch with campus events. Recent incidents that have shaken the greek system and rattled its credibility include: a racial disturbance at the 1979 Beta 500, Exam-Scam, the Phi Delta Theta sexual harassment incident, and the disintegration of the greek-dominated SGA (which I served on as a senator in 1978-79).

The time has come to closely examine the greek system on this campus, for a determination of the further need, necessity and desirability of maintaining the greek system at the University.

High school student surprised by apathy

I am a senior at Anthony Wayne High School, and I will be attending the University in the fall. Personally, I was unpleasantly surprised at the apathy of the Student Government Association, as it was expressed in the May 6 edition of the News, which I read while on a visit to the campus.

I hate to think that I will be coming to a school in which, probably, the most important group in school society is being neglected and uncared for by a majority of the students.

As a member of the Anthony Wayne Student Council, I realize that student government is the biggest voice that the student body has with the administrators. It also has the most power over student life or at least it should.

I only hope that during my years as a student at the University, I will be able to instigate changes and have the support of the entire student body. I will give my support during the years and hope the other students do the same for the benefit of the entire student body.

admiral in the Waldorf Astoria. "What brings you to New York?" he asked jovially.

"I am arranging dealerships all over America for our 4-cylinder Kamikaze 3x2. It gets 24 miles to the gallon and has front-wheel drive, disc brakes, and a rear defrosting window. Here is a photo of it."

The American looked at it and shook his head, "You're wasting your time, admiral. Americans will never buy a small car, particularly one with front-wheel drive."

"Ah so, but we only hope to take one percent of the market among the teenagers and college students."

"It won't work. We have a love affair in this country with gas guzzlers and big fenders. As a friend, I'm telling you to save your money and try to sell your product to the Third World. They will drive anything they can get their hands on."

It was 1981 and both the American ex-aid, and the Japanese ex-admiral had aged considerably. When the American walked into the luxurious offices of the ex-admiral, the Japanese stood up slowly and bowed.

"Ah so. And what brings you to Tokyo, my good friend?"

"I've been sent by the president of the United States," the American said. "He knows we go way back, and felt I should bring his message personally."

"What message?"

"He wants you to stop making so many damn Japanese cars."

"But if we can't make cars, what else can we make?"

"He wants you to start making arms."

"But we don't know how to make arms."

have to wait. You are going to have to realize that the Soviet Union is trying to take over the world, just look at Afghanistan."

"What happened there?"

"Well, the Afghan people started a revolution to get rid of a leader that had no popular support and install a government of, by, and for the people. The Soviet Union couldn't stand the idea of an unfriendly government so close to its border so it moved in to prop up an unpopular government. Terrible, isn't it?"

"Yes it is. I am sure glad that America wouldn't do anything like that."

Wake up University students. Or if you are already awake, put down your beer or set aside your books for a while and do something about it. If you are a greek, tell your fraternity or sorority brothers or sisters that you are sorry but you cannot go to the tea with Sigma Chi tonight, you have to stay home and study about El Salvador. If you are an independent, tell your friends that, no you can't go to the Uptown tonight, you have to stay home and overcome your ignorance about United States support of repression in El Salvador.

If nothing else, it would be fun just to see their reaction. "You have to what? Oh come on. You are kidding me!"

"No really. I just read a Focus in the News and it hit me that I was a self-centered, hypocritical and ignorant brat, and I want to do something about it."

"Oh boy, get some sleep."

I have also checked it out with all the faculty members on campus and they all agreed, with a few exceptions, that writing a letter to your congressman about El Salvador is an acceptable excuse for not doing your homework this week.

If you can't find any substantial information about El Salvador, the Social Justice Committee has collected over 600 pages of documents from a variety of sources which is available for any interested individual.

Writing a letter to your congressman and demanding an end to U.S. military aid to the junta in El Salvador is not the same thing as supporting a military victory for the Salvadoran left. It could be the first step to a negotiated, peaceful settlement.

To say that all the good guys are with the left is just as naive as saying that supporting the present junta is a "centrist" option.

But by giving the junta arms, we are only insuring that the violence will continue. The "left" or a least some of the more moderate elements in the left have called for negotiations.

But Reagan wants a military victory. He wants to eliminate the opposition, not negotiate a peaceful settlement. By taking this approach Reagan is insuring that the moderating forces in that country will be silenced, and the violence will go on and on. Write a letter to your congressman and help nudge Reagan out of the 1980s.

New scholarship announced

A Michigan couple has established a scholarship fund with an unusual stipulation - the recipients must hold part-time jobs at the University.

The endowed fund was given by Robert and Ellen Thompson of Plymouth, Michigan. Both are University graduates.

"The scholarship will be awarded for the first time in the 1981-82 academic year, and will cover 50 percent of the student's tuition and fees," Diana Carpenter, assistant director of financial aid, said.

Two scholarships will be granted the first year, with the number increasing as the fund grows through investment, she added.

To qualify for the award, a student must be a full time student, have a junior class rank, demonstrate financial need, have an accumulative grade point average of at least 2.8, and be employed by the University for at least 10 hours a week, she said.

The amount of the Thompsons' gift will not be disclosed, James Hof, vice president for development and alumni affairs, said.

"Endowed scholarships are created through a minimum gift of $5,000 to the Bowling Green State University Foundation, Inc.," he said.

"I hope the scholarship will grow as more people become aware of it," he said, explaining that if the scholarship proves beneficial to students, other people may contribute to it or start other scholarship funds.

Applications for the Thompson scholarship are available in the Financial Aid office in the Student Services Building. The deadline for filing an application is May 15.

Graduation notices mailed

Notices concerning the June graduation ceremony have been mailed to senior on-campus addresses.

Students not attending the ceremony must return the enclosed cards or they will not be mailed a diploma cover.

Any candidate not receiving the letter by tomorrow should pick one up at the Office of Registration and Records, Becky McOmber, assistant registrar, said.

Change of venue requested

A renewed motion for a change of venue in the Brian Thompson trial was filed in Wood County Court of Common Pleas Friday.

Thompson is charged with murder in connection with the stabbing death of University student Stephen Bowers last November.

Thompson's attorney, Richard Neller, said recent newspaper coverage of Thompson's two co-defendants, James Oviedo and Edward Villarreal, would make it impossible for Thompson to receive a fair trial in Wood County.

"Maybe even Toledo would be too close," Neller said. "With all that publicity I don't see how Keith (Thompson) could receive a fair trial."

Neller said the conviction of Villarreal and Oviedo alone is enough for a change of venue.

Neller objected strongly to a photograph that showed Oviedo and Villarreal, handcuffed together and smiling, next to a headline announcing the guilty verdict returned in their case May 1.

Wood County Prosecutor Betty Montgomery asked Judge Donald Simmons to postpone a ruling until attempts are made to seat a jury. Each prospective juror could be questioned as to how much he had heard of or read about the case, and then a decision could be made as to whether Thompson could receive a fair trial locally.

Neller said he thinks the motion for a change of venue will be granted sometime next week. He said the new trial will be moved to another county.

At the 31st annual Delta Upsilon bike race Tom Powell, Tim Hinkley, Steve Rusch, and Jim Barengo of the Sigma Nu team secure a victory.

Prof evaluations serve a purpose

Student evaluations of faculty members, although often not popular with the faculty, are used by almost every college on campus.

"There has to be some way to compare people, even when comparisons are vindictive," Dr. Peter Wood, assistant professor in the Department of Education and Inquiry, said.

The evaluations provide teachers with information that could improve their teaching methods. In some colleges they are used to determine raises and promotions, Wood explained.

Wood said the most common type of evaluation form has both computer-graded questions and open-ended questions. He said he prefers the essay-type responses, but finds that many times they are not clear enough.

"The questions are too general. They are not directive enough to assist," Wood explained. He would rather ask students questions about the movies he has shown and specific assignments he has given.

NO DEPARTMENT is required to have students evaluate faculty members, and evaluation forms may vary in each department.

Wood said evaluations are sometimes used in the formula for deciding tenure, but other accomplishments, such as papers published and services performed, also are considered in the process.

Begin makes appeal to avert war

JERUSALEM (AP) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin appealed to Syrian President Hafez Assad yesterday to pull back from the "brink" of a new Mideast war by withdrawing anti-aircraft missiles from Lebanon.

And Begin disclosed in a speech to Parliament that he had ordered Israeli jets to knock out the missiles 11 days ago, but cancelled the order.

The Israeli leader then met U.S. envoy Philip Habib - just arrived from Damascus, where Assad was reported adamant in his refusal to remove the SAM-6s from eastern Lebanon's Bekaa Valley.

IGNORING ISRAELI threats of military action, Syria rolled at least two more missile batteries into the Lebanese-Syrian border area in the past two days, Begin said in his speech to Parliament.

He said one battery of SAM-2s and one of SAM-3s were deployed - even as Habib sought in Damascus to resolve the crisis over their presence. The prime minister put the number of missiles emplacements in or near Lebanon at 14, including a SAM-9 battery manned by Libyans.

"Syrian President Mr. Assad, rescind your action," Begin said. "Retreat from the brink. Remove the missiles . . . and humanity will breathe a sigh of relief."

Begin said he had ordered military action against the missiles April 30, two days after the first three batteries were deployed, but shelved the plan due to bad weather and because Secretary of State Alexander Haig Jr. and President Reagan asked for time.

Budget passage expected today

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate rejected two attempts yesterday to cut $200 million for water projects, termed "a diet of pork" by one Democrat, as the chamber marched toward passage of a $699.1 billion budget plan made to order for President Reagan's tax and spending cuts.

First, the Senate voted 55-30 against a proposal by Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan (D-N.Y.) to transfer $200 million earmarked for water projects into accounts for mass transit and student loan programs.

Then, on a vote of 52-39, the Senate turned back an attempt by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum (D-Ohio) to cut the $200 million from the budget altogether and reduce the project $48.8 billion deficit for 1982 by the same amount. The votes were the freshest indications to date that Republicans and Democrats will combine to approve a 1982 budget blueprint almost precisely as Reagan likes it.

Hughes losing consciousness

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) - Relatives of Francis Hughes, one of four IRA men on a hunger strike in the Maze prison, said he was blind, nearly deaf and losing consciousness in the 58th day of his fast. The family of the 25-year-old Hughes, who is serving a life term for killing a British soldier, was given a room in the Maze by prison officials who had done the same for the family of Bobby Sands.

The four IRA inmates promise a "fast to the death" unless Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher grants them political prisoner status, which would give them certain privileges. Sands died last Tuesday.

Women's track

Bowling Green's women's track team continued on its path toward a first-ever MAC championship by placing second in the AIAW Midwest regional championship meet, held at Michigan State University, last Saturday.

The Falcons tallied 104 points, second only to MSU's 130. Fourteen teams competed in the meet, including eight from the MAC. In their runner-up finish, BG defeated Eastern Michigan and Western Michigan, two teams that Coach Pat Brett said would be battling BG for the conference crown.

Kim Jamison was the leading scorer for the Falcons, winning two individual events and being on a first-place relay team.

Jamison won the 100-meter dash with a time of 11.94, good enough to defeat Cheryl Gilliam, the Big 10 champion from MSU. Her time of 11.71 in the preliminary heats set a school record. She also won the 200, with a 24.46 clocking.

Jamison combined with her sister, Kelly, Diana Jennings and Jane Guilford to run the 440-yard relay in a first-place and school record time of 47.4.

The mile relay team of Jenny Thornton, Joy Clawson, Stephanie Eaton and Jennings was also victorious. Their time of 3:52.69 is a school record.

Terri Gindlesberger and Sandra Cook finished 1-2 in the 5,000 with times of 17:59.24 and 18:12.35, respectively.

Two school records were set during second-place performances. Jennings ran the 400 in 56.11, and the 880 medley relay was timed in 1:46.4. Karen McQuilkin took second in the 10,000 with a time of 37:38.70, while Kathy Kaczor was fifth in 38:33.3.

Liz Sheets finished in third place in the javelin with a 138-9 toss. Thornton placed fourth in the 400 intermediate hurdles in 62.88. Joy Clawson was fifth with a time of 63.06.

Men's tennis

Bowling Green's men's tennis team ran into Mid-American Conference leaders Miami and Western Michigan last weekend and dropped 8-1 decisions to both teams. BG also blanked Central Michigan 9-0.

The Falcons now have a 15-10 record overall, and a 4-5 MAC record, going into this weekend's MAC championships. BG coach Bob Gill said that Miami seems to be the favorite to take the title. The Redskins have been MAC champions the last seven years.

"Right now Miami has to be considered the prohibitive favorite to win the championship," Gill said. "I don't think they will win hands down, but they will be tough to beat."

BARRY CONLAN was the only Falcon victor against Miami, defeating Bill Annear 6-7, 6-3, 6-3. Only Alan Benson and the doubles team of Dave Epstein and Mike Zekas could manage to take another set from the Redskins.

BG's lone victory against Western Michigan came when Rick Bechtel nipped Steve Winsor 10-9, as bad weather forced the teams to play 10-game pros sets. The win gives Bechtel a 6-3 MAC record at first singles, and a probable bye in the MAC tournament, Gill said.

Gill said that his team's performance over the weekend was indicative of the up-and-down play they have experienced throughout the season.

"I thought we played well against Central and we played well against Miami," he said, "but we just played poorly against Western."

Lacrosse

Though Bowling Green's women's lacrosse team split its two matches last weekend at Oberlin, two Falcons were selected to the Midwest all-star team.

Senior Carole Schnug and sophomore Chris Werner were selected to the all-star team which will play other regional all-star teams in the U.S. Women's Lacrosse Association Tournament in Worthington, May 23-25.

Schnug and Werner are the fourth and fifth BG players to be selected in the last three years.

Falcon coach Carol Durentini said she felt both women were deserving of the honor.

"In terms of skill, the girls are the highest on the team," she said. "They both have exceptional speed, which is necessary to play in the Midwest tournament, and they are both very hard workers."

Durentini's squad defeated Oberlin, 9-8, and lost to Ball State, 18-1, ending the season at 3-9.

Mary Armbrust, the team's leading scorer, got four goals in the first match, an effort that was tied by teammate Gayle Workman.

BG goalie Shelly Liddle had a fine match, stopping 14 of Oberlin's shots, while the Falcons got 21 shots on goal.

Workman scored the lone Falcon goal in the Ball State contest, while BG could only record 12 shots on the Cardinal goal.

Men's golf

Though the Bowling Green men's golf team may have intended to use last weekend's Spartan Invitational as a final tune-up for the Mid-American Conference Championships this weekend at Ball State, the Falcons' play may have posed more questions than it answered.

BG placed fifth among the six MAC schools at the East Lansing, Mich. tourney, with a 36-hole team total of 782 for 12th place overall. Miami, carded the top MAC score, with a fourth-place 753 total, while Eastern Michigan (fifth, 754), Western Michigan (seventh, 755), Toledo (eighth, 762), BG, and Central Michigan (13th, 800) followed.

John Spengler, suffering from a nagging allergy attack throughout his first round, shot a 79-73-153, to pace the Falcon contingent. Mike Dzienny was next at 80-73-153, while Karl Smith (78-81) and Mark Nickerson (78-79) followed at 157. Brad Turner (82-82-164) and Jean LaRoche (81-84-165) completed the BG scoring.

BG's number two golfer, Gary Battistoni, stayed home last weekend to give Coach John Piper the opportunity of seeing some other players in the lineup under tournament conditions.

Piper said he will go with Spengler, Battistoni, Nickerson, Turner, Dzen-ny and Smith in the MAC meet.

LaRoche, who has been in and out of Piper's six-man lineup this spring, will not make the trip to Muncie, Ind., as he has struggled in his last two tournament outings.

"In the next two days, we feel we can help Karl Smith regain his putting confidence, much more easily than correcting the many things that have gone wrong with his (LaRoche's) game," Piper said.

Men's track

Co-captain Terry Reedus won all four of the events he was entered in, but it was not enough to keep Bowling Green's men's track team from being defeated by Kent State 84-79 in a dual meet held Saturday at Kent.

Reedus took the 440-yard dash in 48.5 and then came back to win the 400-meter intermediate hurdles. His time of 52.3 was good enough to defeat defending MAC champion, Bill Dobberty.

The 440-yard relay of Denton Tapp, Reedus, Robert Zellers and Derrick Smith won with a time of 42.8. Dave Agosta (50.9), Chuck Pullom (50.0), Jeff Brown (48.3) and Reedus (48.6) combined to win the mile relay in 3:17.8.

Smith won both of the sprint races, the 100 and 200. His times were 10.8 and 22.2, respectively. Pullom was the final BG winner, taking the 800 with a 1:53.7.

Brown placed second in the 1500 in 3:54.0, while Agosta was third with a 3:54.9. Bryan Malsam took second in the steeplechase with a personal best time of 9:38.0. Mike Kobylski also ran a personal best, 9:46.3, to finish third.

Kevin Siebert placed second in the javelin with a toss of 148-0. Jeff Martin was second in the 5,000 with a 15:12.6 clocking, and Mark Vermillion was runner-up in the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.8.

James Rhoades and Jim Wilkins both reached seasonal bests in the long jump. Rhoades covered 22-3, and Wilkins 21-11½ to place second and third. In the high jump, Dan Saffow jumped 6-8 to place second, and Fred Morrison cleared 6-6 for third.

Bruce Carr was second in the 200 with a 22.5, and Tapp was third in 22.7. Dudley Cramer cleared 14-6 for second in the pole vault. Kevin Siebert took third by clearing 13-6. Kelly Lycan and Wilkins took second and third in the triple jump by leaping 42-5¼ and 40-3, respectively. Lycan ran a personal best of 56.9 in the intermediates to finish third.

Club Clips

Bowling Green's rugby club rolled to a 42-6 victory over Oberlin last Saturday at College Park Field.

BG scored 32 unanswered points in the second half to break open what was a close game in the half. Rick Kusmer scored two tries to lead the Falcons, who also got successful tries from Mike George, Kevin Frontz, Greg Westerveldt, Mitch Leach, Brad Rossi, Scotty Williams and Preston Bartlett. Mike Harrington had three conversion kicks to round out the BG scoring.

The Falcon ruggers, 17-6-2, travel to Sandusky this weekend to participate in the Sandusky Bay Festival.

BG ends MAC season, breaks 11-game losing streak

by Joe Menzer
News assistant sports editor

"It's been so long, I forgot what it feels like," Bowling Green baseball coach Don Purvis said after his team broke an 11-game losing streak by defeating Eastern Michigan, 3-1, in the second game of a Mid-American Conference doubleheader last Saturday at Steller Field.

"It feels great. I'm elated for myself and everyone else on the team," BG's winning pitcher, P.D. Elber, said.

The fact that BG was so elated after losing three of four games last weekend indicates what type of season it has been for the Falcons.

Before winning the nightcap against EMU, BG had dropped a pair of games to Central Michigan, 1-0, 5-2, and the Saturday's opener to the Hurons, 10-7, lowering its record to 13-26-1 overall and 5-11 in the MAC.

BUT ELBER'S four-hitter and Kevin Glasspoole's clutch double in the sixth inning of the second game against the Hurons gave the Falcons a split of their doubleheader with EMU and their first victory in over three weeks.

Elber was masterful on the mound and even made what Purvis called "the defensive play of the game" when he helped turn a double play to get out of a bases loaded jam in the sixth inning. EMU's designated hitter, Bubba Bezeau, ripped an Elber pitch back to the box, but the Falcon righthander cleanly fielded the ball and threw to catcher Tom Stacy for the force at the plate. Stacy then threw to first for the final out of the inning.

That defensive play set the stage for Glasspoole's heroics in the bottom of the same inning. At the time, Glasspoole was hitless for the day and had struck out three times. But this time the 6-1, 220-pound junior delivered a double that scored Stacy, who had reached base on an error, giving BG a 2-1 lead.

"It felt good. I've been struggling for a couple of weeks," Glasspoole said. "I've pretty much been overwinding and pressing at the plate. I just wanted to make contact."

"You have to give Glasspoole credit," Purvis added. "He came up with the big hit when the game was tied."

THE FALCONS added another run when they successfully executed the suicide squeeze, after Mark Hall, pinch-running for Glasspoole, advanced to third on a passed ball. Phil Oropallo bunted a pitch that was out of the strike zone to convert the play.

"At that point, I was looking for insurance," Purvis said. "It was a gamble play, but we had been having trouble scoring runs. We had good speed on third and Oropallo did a good job of getting the ball down on the grass."

Those two runs, coupled with the run the Falcons scored earlier in the game, were more than enough for Elber. EMU got its only run in the second inning when a base hit, a stolen base, a Stacy throwing error and a sacrifice fly produced a run.

"Scoring in the bottom of the sixth like that puts a lot of pressure on them (EMU)," Elber said.

Elber struck out two of the last three batters he faced and got the other one to pop up.

"I was pretty much in command of all of my pitches, all day," Elber said. "I had good defense behind me, too. It feels good for everybody to get one under our belts. It puts everybody in a better frame of mind."

ELBER did not walk a batter and struck out six in raising his record to 3-4. Mickey Weston took the loss for EMU, 31-26 overall and 9-7 in the MAC.

The earlier contest was a slugfest, in which the two teams belted 25 hits and scored 17 runs. Shoddy defense by BG and heavy hitting by EMU enabled the Hurons to build a 10-3 lead before the Falcons scored a pair of runs in each of the last two innings.

Dave Litzenberg had three hits and H.J. Smith a double and a home run for the Falcons. EMU got three hits from Brian Hort, Doug Davis and Jim Riggs.

Jay Davidson went the distance to pick up the win, while Keith Imhoff, 2-5, took the loss.

BG was simply a victim of fine pitching Friday against Central Michigan, who on Saturday swept Toledo to clinch the regular season MAC championship.

The umpire signals that a Central Michigan runner is safe in CMU's doubleheader last Friday against Bowling Green at Steller Field. Things went that way most of the weekend for BG and second baseball Phil Oropallo, but Oropallo's bunt on a suicide squeeze play in the second game of a doubleheader against Eastern Michigan, Saturday, helped the Falcons break an 11-game losing streak.

who entered the game with an 0.56 earned run average, scattered eight hits and went the distance for the Chippewas in the nightcap.

BG got runners on first and second in the final inning against Young, but the CMU pitcher lefthander bore down and struck out Steve Schultze to end the game.

"I was getting a little tired out there," Young said. "I was hoping I could hit a spot and make a pitch he (Schultze) couldn't hit out."

"I'm more of a control pitcher. I try to make them (hitters) hit it on the ground, but I'll take a strikeout when I can get it. In that situation, I was going for the strikeout."

AN RBI DOUBLE by Joe Thrasher and a solo home run by Tom Stacy in the second game produced the only runs of the doubleheader for the Falcons.

That was not enough to produce any victories, even though BG got excellent pitching from Roger McDowell in the first game and decent pitching from Doug Groth in the nightcap, before he tired late in the game.

"The biggest problem is we're just not scoring enough runs," Purvis said.

BG hopes to change that, when it hosts Defiance and Otterbein, today and tomorrow, in 1 p.m. doubleheaders at Steller Field.

Although last weekend's doubleheaders marked the end of BG's MAC schedule, both CMU and EMU qualified for the MAC playoffs, which will be held at Central's Alumni Field this weekend. Miami and Western Michigan round out the four-team playoff field.

Ohio State's steady senior, Rose Jones, lived up to her billing last weekend, easily winning the BG Invitational at the University Golf Course. Jones carded a 145 to set the course record.

Relaxed, steady play keys Jones, OSU to easy BG Invitational victory

Neither the weather nor a competitive 10-team field was able to stop Ohio State's Rose Jones from playing her typical steady golf en route to victory in last weekend's BG Invitational.

Jones scrambled her way to a 75 on Friday and then braved the rains and the cold, Saturday, for a 70 and course record 145 at the University Golf Course.

Jones and her Buckeye teammates won the team championship with a 625 total. Penn State was the runner-up, eight shots back. Bowling Green's Orange team finished sixth at 689, and BG's Brown team was eighth at 738.

The rain bothered quite a few of the players, but not Jones.

"I WAS LUCKY enough to keep my grips dry," she said. "I was rolling up to the greens real well today. I was thinking around the course today. I had my concentration throughout the tournament, and you need to keep relaxed in these conditions, or you can get yourself in trouble."

Shelly Dye, BG's top golfer in the invitational, held second place going into the final round with a 77, Friday. But the rains came and shook Dye's concentration causing her to shoot an 86 Saturday, for a 163 total. "I just lost my concentration today (Saturday),"

Dye said. "I missed a lot of short putts that I don't usually miss."

Dye said she felt that even with a good final round she would not have caught Jones.

"Rose was the best golfer out there, no doubt about it. The chances of beating her are very slim when she's playing that well," Dye said.

BG COACH Janet Parks agreed.

"I think it's terrific when somebody sets a course record. I really have a lot of respect for Rose's ability. She's a real competitor," Parks said.

Even with Saturday's weather, the players recorded some better scores, and Parks said she wasn't surprised. "Usually the players play better the second day," Parks said. "They tend to go to sleep the first round, but wake up the second round. They know the course a little better; that helps too."

The BG coach added that she was satisfied with her team's play but improvement was still needed.

"They shot fairly well this weekend, but I think that certain players on the team know they play better," she added. "But they were giving their best."

The Falcons travel to Ohio State for the Lady Buckeye Invitational this weekend.

Cooney KOs Ken Norton

NEW YORK (AP) — Unbeaten Gerry Cooney smashed Ken Norton to the floor with six savage punches to the head and stopped the former World Boxing Council heavyweight champion in the first 54 seconds of scheduled 10-round fight last night at Madison Square Garden.

Norton slumped to the floor in his own corner. Referee Tony Perez did not even bother to count. Norton remained in his corner, where his handlers and a doctor worked over him for several minutes after the fight ended.

It was an electric finish and set up the 24-year-old Cooney for a shot at World Boxing Association champion Mike Weaver. That fight reportedly is already signed and could run into some legal problems.

CONNEY HURT Norton with a right hand shortly after the fight started. He followed with a couple of hard lefts to the body, but Norton fought back.

However, Cooney cornered Norton and threw a flurry of head shots, but Norton blocked many of them. Then six vicious lefts and rights shot home to Norton's jaw. The veteran's eyes rolled up and his knees bent as he slowly slumped to the canvas. Perez signaled the fight, and almost certainly, Norton's long career was over.

Cooney's big victory and Norton's bitter defeat came exactly four years to the night that Norton had knocked out then highly regarded Duane Bobick 58 seconds into a scheduled 10-rounder at the Garden.

It was the second one-round knockout loss for Norton in his last four fights. After losing the WBC title to Larry Holmes in 1978, Norton was kayoed in the first round by Earnie Shavers March 23, 1979, then was held to a 10-round draw by Scott LeDoux on Aug. 19 of that year. He then announced his retirement.

Netters place third in state after 9-0 Ohio State drubbing

Before last weekend's women's tennis state championships, BG coach Deb Kurkiewicz said that Ohio State's recent 8-1 drubbing of the Falcons let her team know what to expect at the tournament.

The Buckeyes gave the Falcons another look in the semifinals of the tournament, handing them a 9-0 drubbing. From there, the Buckeyes downed Miami 6-3 for the state title, as BG finished third.

In the first round of the tournament, the Falcons defeated Cincinnati 6-3 to gain their semifinal berth. BG finishes the season with a 9-3 record.

In the singles tournament, Cindy Scheper reached the semifinals before losing 6-1, 6-3 to OSU's Christi Turbo. Chris Bischoff lost to OSU's Ann Beau-doin 6-0, 7-5 in the second round.

BOTH DOUBLES TEAMS lost in the second round of the tournament. Scheper-Bischoff dropped a 6-4, 2-6, 7-5 decision to Toledo's Sheila Hart-Jane Jimenez, while Linda Ensign and Joni Lindquist lost to Miami's Wendy Sweeney-Anna van Walleghen 6-1, 6-3.

Bischoff and Scheper each recorded wins over opponents who had defeated them earlier in the year. Bischoff downed Kent State's Bonni Beachey 6-4, 6-2 avenging a 6-0, 6-4 loss earlier in the season. Scheper defeated Cincinnati's Kathy Couling 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 in the team competition, avenging a loss suffered just last week.

Scheper also defeated Miami's Wendy Sweeney, who was runner-up at the Mid-American Conference tournament at first singles three weeks ago.

"My match against Cincinnati was one of my best of the year," Scheper said. "This was the last chance to do well. We were kind of down after the MAC tournament, but I think this brought us back up."

SCHAPER SAID that she was happy with her first season with the Falcons, a season which saw her post a 10-7 record in singles and a 9-7 record with Chris Bischoff at first doubles.

Bischoff finished the year with a 9-6 mark. Linda Ensign was 7-6, Joni Lindquist was 8-6 and Stephanie Tober posted the team's best record with an 11-3 mark. Ensign and Bottorff combined for a 6-2 record in doubles, while Tober and Lindquist were 5-1.

"Our attitudes were completely different this year compared to last year," Bischoff said. "Last year we would go on court not thinking that we could win, and this season we were more confident."
